Background

Born in '36 to Texan immigrant Irish settlers, Jonas was raised right. He worked as a ranch hand for the Kings ranch until he was 25 (1861).

When the great war started. Jonas was always a firm believer that a man is a man despite the color of her skin or their gender. He joined the Union army and reached the rank of First Lieutenant (he probably could have attained a higher rank if he'd learned then to keep his big mouth shut, something he learned later) over the nearly four years of hell killing his fellow Americans.

In 1865 (29) Jonas returned to Texas and found work as a deputy of the Texas Rangers. For nearly six years his team cleaned up the aftermath of the war, until his team was charged to investigate strange phenomenon in California.

(more backstory goes here)

Today (1884, 48 years old), he's been an Agent for 3 years.

He's far from mute, but has learned to keep his mouth shut, watch the room, then act or speak in the most efficient way possible.
